SPORTSMETRICS CERTIFICATION COURSE

The Sportsmetrics™ program assists in reducing the risks of serious knee injury and enhances athletic performance. The certification allows physical therapists and athletic trainers to offer Sportsmetrics™, a scientifically proven, evidence-based program, to patients and healthy athletes in their communities. Attendees will have access to the latest research in ACL injuries and prevention from nationally-known researcher Dr. Frank Noyes. Sportsmetrics is proven to reduce the incidence of non-contact ACL injuries and re-injuries, and only Sportsmetrics practitioners certified by the Noyes Knee Institute can offer Sportsmetrics training.

As a certified Sportsmetrics instructor, you will be able to use Sportsmetrics as part of the rehabilitation program in your clinic as well as offer the training to athletes in your area.
